Attention Benefit Eligible Employees – Action Required

Roosevelt University is pleased to announce our benefit options from Aflac. Critical Illness insurance, Accident insurance and Hospital Indemnity insurance are now available through payroll deduction.

Aflac is designed to help with out-of-pocket expenses associated with a medical event by paying benefits directly to the policyholder. The benefits can be used to help cover medical expenses, routine living expenses, loss of income, as well as the unexpected costs of an illness or injury—travel, lodging, and miscellaneous out-of-pocket expenses. Aflac can help alleviate financial stressors that can take away from a healthy recovery.

Since many of these options are available on a 'guarantee issue' basis, you will have the opportunity to enroll without health questions being asked during this initial enrollment period. Due to the unique guarantee issue offering, Roosevelt University is required to document each employee's election/waiver of coverage by April 26.

Please select one of the options:

- ○ I will attend a group presentation to learn more about Aflac.
- ○ I will schedule an individual meeting with an Aflac representative during the enrollment period.

- ○ I will visit aflac.com/Roosevelt to learn about Aflac.
- ○ I am not currently an Aflac policyholder and have decided to waive my opportunity to participate at this time. I understand the Critical Illness and Hospital plans are guarantee issue during this initial enrollment only.

Application and waiver opportunities will be available at each of the above options.

Please return completed form to Human Resources, AUD 344 at your earliest convenience.
