B.A. in Social Justice StudiesRevisions effective 2012-13

Changes in the major, briefly

- 1. Concentrations are eliminated.
- 2. The number of courses that can be chosen as electives from any one department is limited to two. This is to ensure the interdisciplinary character of the major.
- 3. Students and a primary advisor must collaborate in the selection of electives. This is to ensure coherence in the major.

Required Courses

- SOCJ 201 Introduction to Social Justice Studies
- ECON/SOCJ 208 Introduction to Working Class Studies
- ECON 214 Economics of Globalization
- Research methods (qualitative or quantitative). Students interested in quantitative methods are encouraged to take Math 217/Econ 234 and Economics 338 Econometrics
- A course in Social Movements
- ECON 326 Theories of Justice
- Internship

12 hours of electives

- No more than two electives can come from any single discipline.
- Three electives must be thematically related.
- One elective must be a transformational learning course.
- Three electives must be at the 300 level.
- No 100-level electives will be accepted.
- Electives must be chosen in conjunction with an advisor.
- The Social Justice Studies advisory committee will designate elective courses each semester.